

Roger Williams University School of Law Certification of Graduation Writing Requirement

_____ has completed the graduation research and writing requirement by writing an individually authored paper (or papers) that reflects substantial legal research; presents a legal argument that is well-developed, organized, and supported; is at least 5500 (including footnotes) words long; and is of sufficient quality to earn a grade of “C” or higher. See Student Handbook §711. The upper level research and writing requirement for this student was satisfied in the following manner:

- A directed research paper or papers under Section 705 of this Code;

- A paper or papers submitted in a seminar or course in which the paper or papers in total count for at least one-half of the final course grade;
Course or Seminar: _____ Year & Term: _____

- A paper supervised by a professor or director submitted to acquire or maintain Law Review membership;

TITLE OF PAPER OR PAPERS:

Dates of Completion:

Certifying Professor or Dean: _____
print name clearly signature

Date Received by Office of Student Finance and Records: _____

