

Cost of Attendance (COA) Appeal Form – 2022-2023

Attaining a legal education is a significant investment of a student's time and financial resources. Students should be aware of all of their financial responsibilities and make wise financial decisions before, during and after they attend the Roger Williams University School of Law. Students need to realize that they are investing in their futures, but that the investment can be considerable. Therefore, it is highly recommended that students borrow conservatively at all times and be diligent in budgeting their money wisely.

Roger Williams University School of Law realizes that students come to the Law School from various backgrounds, experiences, and lifestyles; however, the student cost of attendance budget allows for a simple lifestyle – that of a law student. As the adage goes, "If you live like a lawyer while a student, you will live like a student when a lawyer."

Federal regulations govern the creation of the student cost of attendance budget and dictate that it covers only expenses incurred during periods of enrollment and may include only education-related expenses. Basic allowable items include tuition and fees, books and supplies, lodging and food, transportation, student loan fees, and personal/miscellaneous expenses. Items the government will NOT allow in the student cost of attendance budget include moving expenses, prior loan debt, credit card debt, car payments, and expenses incurred out of the student's actual period of enrollment. The regulations do allow for specific cost of attendance increases for special circumstances including students with disabilities to accommodate reasonable needs to attend classes; students paying dependent day care or adult day care expenses directly related to the student's attendance (not for job purposes); students who have medical/dental expenses not covered by insurance while enrolled; and a student's one-time computer purchase expense.

To request a cost of attendance budget increase, please fully complete the attached form and submit the form and all supporting documentation to the Financial Aid Office. If approved, the budget increase will allow you to apply for additional loan funds. Please note that appeals decisions can take up to two weeks.
